PEACE HEAR IN RAIL STRIKE

HAGEN GETS 141 ON RAIN SOAKED SKOKIE COURSE

Surprises and Thrills Mark Second Day.

BY HUGH FULLERTON.

Surprises, the sudden entrance of new stars into the limelight of golf, desperate fights by old masters to hold their place against the newcomers, and sudden changes of form marked the second day's struggle for the open golf championship in the United States over the rain soaked course of the Skokie Country club yesterday.

Thrills were largely centered upon the star pair of the day, Walter Hagen, British open champion, and George Duncan, the brilliant Britisher. Hagen, the bulldog of the links, plowing along perfectly through all sorts of going, through rain and shine, came through with the low for the day, 141, while his partner, going wild in the last nine holes, came near sacrificing his right to play in the final.

Duncan Closes Under Wire. That last nine holes was a sweeping victory by Hagen—a near tragedy for Duncan. The Britisher suddenly went wrong on what seems to be the easiest part of the journey, and for five consecutive holes he took three putts to each green until, four holes from home, it looked as if he would not qualify. He made a superb rally coming to the finish, and, although faltering on the last approach and taking a five, he registered 151 for the day and saved the British honors.

The day was one of surprises, climaxing near the end by the brilliant round of Johnny Farrell, the Quaker-like youngster. With a 78 in the morning round, half of which was played in a thunderstorm, the 20 year old sensation brought home a card of 83, the low round of the day, and but for missing a flag foot putt on the second hole, and a five footer later, he would have brought in a 58.

Day Like a Woman's Mink. The day, starting with greens and fairways flooded from the heavy thunderstorms of the early morning, was as changeable as was the form of some of the golfers. The course, which has been baked for forty days, was flooded when the first light started. Then, late in the morning round, another heavy thunderstorm swept the field while the majority of the players and their followers were out. The rain and the condition of the course increased the scores quickly and at noon a weather that any one scoring 155 would qualify was refused.

That the sun burned away the high heat, the brisk wind swept away the clouds and the course, blotting up the water, rapidly became faster and faster. The quick changes of condition resulted in triumph for some, and tragedy for others.

Real Stars Show Mettle. Conditions and the character of the field led to some erratic golf and scattered the field widely, but fortunately, the rain and casual water did not wreck the chances of any of the real stars of the tournament.

The afternoon conditions proved ideal. The galleries, rain soaked in the morning, came back with dry clothes, and the public commenced to flock to the greatest American golf spectacle. The big galleries followed Hagen and Duncan and during that last heart-breaking trip up from the marsh to the lights, more than two thousand flooded along after the American who was riding to low score and the Britisher who was battling doggedly to overcome the stubbornness of the ball in refusing to drop on his putts.

Jones and Diegel Set. Almost as large as the gallery following Bobby Jones and Les Diegel, who for the third time, were playing together to win the big event. Diegel was shooting brilliant and consistent golf while Jones was erratic at times. His iron shots were carrying away to the right in many cases, and he was putting badly at intervals. In view of this he was safe in the qualifying round all the time.

It was a triumph for the southerners when their weak showing on opening day, Diegel, Jones, and Frank Spurgin, among the stars. Spurgin was among the surprises, and so was Black, Chicago-driving Oakland pro, who was low for low in the morning.

Strangers Among Qualifiers. The list of qualifiers for the day will show some names that never have appeared in the charmed circle before, but that was to be expected as the field, considering very few great stars, was more evenly rated than that of the first round.

For the rain Duncan would have been at least four strokes better, but for the rain Duncan would have been at least four strokes better, but for the rain Duncan would have been at least four strokes better.

MRS. PICKFORD DEFENDS JACK FROM ZIEGFELD

Says He Hopes to Spoil Wedding.

BY EDWARD DOHERTY.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 11.—[Special.]—Mrs. Charlotte Pickford, with many smiles and a few tears, defended her son, Jack, tonight, scolding the charges made against him by Florenz Ziegfeld and praising Marilyn Miller of the Follies, the girl he is to marry.

Jack stood by. At times he exchanged kisses or banter with little Mary, his "double niece," born to Lottie Pickford and adopted by Mary. At times he broke into his mother's talk. At times he spoke of his experiences on location during the day.

"Do you want to say anything about Mr. Ziegfeld," he was asked. He grinned.

"I don't even know him," he said. Ziegfeld has tried to persuade Marilyn, who has lately made a great New York success in "Sally," to drop young Pickford.

Mrs. Pickford Dominates.

It was Mrs. Pickford who dominated the interview, which was held at the little cottage at Santa Monica Beach.

It is 5 o'clock. Lottie asks you to come into the reception room and wait. You notice that everything is new, even to the traveling phonograph in its mahogany case on the table.

Mrs. Pickford arrives. Little Mary rushes to her, the maid following. Some more machine gun kisses.

Mrs. Pickford is quite willing to talk. Even eager.

"I want everybody to know, she says, "that my Jack isn't a giraffe or a slacker. You know as well as I do, Florenz Ziegfeld has been trying in every way to break this engagement between my son and Marilyn. She's making 'Sally' a tremendous hit and Mr. Ziegfeld wants it to continue. He doesn't want her to quit and be married. Think of the money he'd lose."

"A Wild, Impulsive Boy." "He's tried everything. He even told Miss Miller that some old woman was keeping Jack. Yes. What do you know about that? Well, I suppose I'm the old woman. I'm the only one keeping him."

"He's a wild, impulsive boy. Twenty-five and doesn't look it at all. And he's irresponsible. He spends money like water."

"He needs me, you bet. But as for being mean—why that boy wouldn't be mean to do a mean thing, or say a mean word about anybody—not even about Ziegfeld himself."

"And he isn't a slacker, as I can prove readily. He has his honorable discharge papers from the navy, with a recommendation for reinstatement. I can show them to you."

"Yes, sir, it's just malice. He tried to poison Marilyn against Jack. But he can't do it. She knows him, and she loves him. And at the same time, mind you, he writes Miss Miller the sweetest letters you ever saw, wishing her and Jack all kinds of good luck."

"And with a letter he sent a young peach tree in full bloom. In a little hot house, you know. It must have cost $200 or $400. Think of that!"

"Wanted to Join Air Force." "Jack was only 20 years old when the draft went into operation. He was in June. Of course, he didn't register. And he was married then to Olive Thomas."

"He had an airplane of his own and wanted to get into the aviation and go to France and fight. He thought all he had to do was to volunteer."

"I didn't want him to go. I told him to give the government half of his yearly salary and stay home with me. But he wouldn't."

"Mother," he said to me, "if the Germans were coming into this house and I hid behind the door and paid somebody else to fight them, what would I be? You'd be a coward," I said. "That's just what you are trying to make me," he answered."

"I took him down to San Diego to see Gen. Strong, whose regiment Mary adopted. I asked him to advise my boy, who lost his father years ago, as he would his own son."

"The general advised Jack to go to the aviation school. He said Jack would have to learn the game from the very rudiments. Jack didn't say a word until we got outside. Then he said: 'It's a frameup.'"

Wanted Long to Enlist. "He said if he couldn't get into the American aviation he would go into the Canadian forces. And finally we

GIRL RISKS OWN LIFE TO SAVE HER FATHER'S

Albert Martin Kales, well known Chicago attorney, who has been critically ill in the Evanston hospital for nearly two weeks, may recover through the sacrifice of his daughter, Dorothy, 26 years old, who submitted to a blood transfusion operation a few days ago.

Details of the transfusion process became known only last night. Dr. George Dick, attending physician, decided the necessity of new, vigorous blood for his patient and Dorothy responded.

The amount of blood taken was not learned, but the girl, it is said, rallied quickly and has been in constant attendance on her father.

Mr. Kales became suddenly ill in the library of the University club, Evanston, where he resides. His wife, who is in Europe, has not been notified through fear of causing her worry, it was said.

Mr. Kales has offices at 134 South LaSalle street. He has been active in civil and judicial matters and is the author of several noteworthy law volumes. He was formerly a member of the law school of Northwestern university and in 1916 was appointed professor of law at Harvard university.

GEORGE J. GOULD WEDS IN PARIS

Second Wife, Like First, Said to Be Actress.

New York, July 11.—[Special.]—George J. Gould, according to a close friend who refused to be quoted by name, has married a second time. The marriage, took place recently in Paris. The bride was Mrs. Alice Sinclair. She is understood to be an actress whose stage career is said to have brought her to Broadway in a musical comedy several years ago.

According to the understanding in New York Mr. Gould and his wife do not intend to return here just now. Mr. Gould has leased a cottage in Invernesshire, Scotland, and the bride and bridegroom are reported to be spending their honeymoon there.

Daughter Said to "Approve"

It is probable that New York society will have its first opportunity to meet the new Mrs. Gould in her social role about next November.

Meantime, it is said some of the Gould children will cross the water to meet their stepmother. Mrs. Carroll L. Wainwright, Mr. Gould's daughter, with whom romance not so long ago led into a runaway match, is reported to approve cordially of her father's step in taking a new wife.

Mrs. Wainwright will not be the first to see the new Mrs. Gould, however. Jay Gould, a son, called for Europe on the majestic last Saturday.

First Wife Died on Golf Links

Mrs. Edith Kingdom Gould, first wife of George J. Gould, died last November. Mrs. Gould was playing golf with her husband on the links of Georgian Court, their estate at Lakewood, N. J., when stricken with a heart attack and died about twenty minutes later.

PRINCESS MARY'S HUSBAND FAILS AS FACTORY MAN

(Chicago Tribune Service News Service.)

LONDON, July 11.—Lord Lacon, a typewriter factory, capitalized at $500,000 (roughly $2,500,000) has failed and tomorrow the property will be sold at auction. Princess Mary's husband failed to realize enough from the auction to enable him to launch another business, but he has not decided what to do yet.

Lord Lacon employed 400 former soldiers in the factory as well as 200 stenographers and clerks, but not a machine was ever sold. A few were manufactured at enormous expense and were given to friends, including one to King George and one to the princess.

BATHERS PLAN PARADE TO GET THEIR DEMANDS

Bathers who use the Oak street beach plan a novel demonstration today to bring their needs to the attention of the Lincoln Park board. They plan to march in a body to Lincoln Park where spokesmen will demand of the board that proper bathing facilities be installed on the beach immediately.

Among improvements to be asked are: new comfort stations and dressing rooms for men and women. All moves heretofore to get such conveniences have been blocked by "Gold Coast" residents of the neighborhood who object to the bathers' using the beach. Those in charge of the demonstration today believe they will show such strength that the park board will not refuse their plea.

HOOPER MEETS JEWELL; MOVE MAILED; U.S. WARNS

President Issues Settlement May Proclamation to Men and Roads. Come from Work of Labor Board.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—President Harding late tonight issued an official proclamation designed to prevent interference with the transportation of the mails and interruption of interstate commerce by the striking railway shop crafts employees and their sympathizers.

In the proclamation, which is signed by the President and Secretary of State Hughes, they invite the cooperation of all public authorities and all good citizens to uphold the laws and to preserve peace.

The President points out that the maintenance of interstate commerce and the transportation of the mails necessitate the employment of men in place of the strikers, and these men, says the proclamation, "have the same indisputable right to work that others have to decline to work."

The text of the proclamation follows: A PROCLAMATION.

"Whereas, The United States railroad labor board is an agency of the government, created by law and charged with the duty of adjusting disputes between railroad operators and employees engaged in interstate commerce; and

"Whereas, The United States railroad labor board has recently rendered decisions, one affecting the wages of the shop craft employees, the other declaring the contract system of shop craft work with outside agencies to be contrary to the intent of the transportation act, and, therefore, that such practice must be discontinued; and

"Whereas, The shop craft employees have elected to discontinue their work rather than abide by the decision rendered, and certain operators have ignored the decision ordering the abandonment of the contract shop practices; and

"Whereas, The maintained operation of the railways in interstate commerce and the transportation of United States mails have necessitated the employment of men who choose to accept employment under the terms of the decision and who have the same indisputable right to work that others have to decline work; and

"Whereas, The peaceful settlement of controversies in accordance with law and due respect for the established agencies of such settlement are essential to the security and well being of our people;

"Now, therefore, I, Warren G. Harding, president of the United States, do hereby make proclamation directing all persons to refrain from all interference with the lawful efforts to maintain interstate transportation and the carrying of the United States mails.

"These activities and the maintained supremacy of the law are the first obligation of the government and all the citizenship of our country. Therefore I invite the co-operation of all public authorities, state and municipal, and the aid of all good citizens to uphold the laws and to preserve the public peace, and to facilitate these operations in safety which are essential to life and liberty, and the security of property and our common public welfare.

"In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done at the city of Washington, this eleventh day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and twenty-two, and of the independence of the United States the one hundred and forty-sixth.

"WARREN G. HARDING. (By the President.)

"CHARLES E. HUGHES, Secretary of State."

Cabinet Taken Action.

The proclamation is the result of the cabinet meeting this morning. It was decided by the President and his official advisers that in view of the developing interference with the mails no time should be lost in making it clear that the government will tolerate no interruption of transportation or interference with the right of employment.

Postmaster General Work submitted to the cabinet meeting a survey of the instances of interference with the transportation of the mails.

Three thousand miles of railway

Settlement of the strike of 300,000 railway shopmen throughout the country seemed in prospect last night following the personal intervention of President Harding and a series of secret conferences between Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the United States railroad labor board, and union leaders of the six striking shop crafts.

The peace negotiations, initiated through a reporter for The Tribune, have been in progress since last Saturday night, when Chairman Hooper and B. M. Jewell, head of the shop crafts, were brought together for the first time since the walkout of ten days ago.

President Phoenix McMenamin. What part President Harding will play has not been disclosed. It is known, however, that the President was in telephone communication here last night with W. L. McMenamin, one of the three labor representatives on the railroad labor board. This much was revealed when a long distance operator called The Tribune in an effort to locate Mr. McMenamin.

From the secret peace conference has come a rather definite conclusion as to what may be done to effect a settlement. While beyond issuing writs and rather noncommittal statements, Mr. Hooper and President Jewell declined to discuss prospects, reports indicated that the strike will be called off if four things are done—

1. If the strikers agree to stop work on the railroad lines which some roads have cut work to obstruct and within the jurisdiction of the labor board and therefore not bound by its decisions on wages and working conditions.

2. If some arrangement for modifying certain working rules which cut the operation of shopmen is made.

3. If President Jewell is given assurance that his organization will not be denied a rehearing by the labor board on the wage issue.

4. If the railroad agree to establish the boards of adjustment provided for in the transportation act but which the carriers have steadfastly refused to consider.

Personal of Board. The proposed boards of adjustment—perhaps one national board—would be made up of an equal number of union and carrier representatives. They would hear all disputes excepting those involving wages, thus taking a great load from the labor board and insuring greater promptness in disposing of grievances.

Although the statements of Chairman Hooper and President Jewell seemed almost studiously to avoid expression of undue optimism, neither sought to minimize the significance of the fact that they finally had "put their feet under the same table," following days during which prospects of such a meeting seemed to be growing more remote every hour.

Hooper's View of It. Mr. Hooper's statement followed: "The much significance need not be attached to the fact that I have held conferences with Mr. Jewell and the heads of his several organizations. In the meantime, I have also conferred with several railway executives. As a result of these conferences, there is no optimistic predictions to make."

"My participation in the 'previous conference' and the participation of Mr. Wharton and myself in that of today have been personal rather than official, and arose from a desire on our part to be as helpful as possible in the present situation."

for the Tribune. This conversation had seemed to disclose the fact that while the two leaders, Chairman Hopper and Mr. Jewell, had literally remained miles apart since the strike became effective, they were not, after all, separated by insurmountable obstacles.

Arrangements for "a talk."

Mr. Jewell conceded this, and indicated a willingness to meet Chairman Hopper. The latter, in his turn, was equally prompt to "have a talk."

So, at 9:30 o'clock Saturday night, the two met in room 352 at the Auditorium hotel. During a session lasting until midnight they discussed peace possibilities.

While the peace move remained embryonic, President Jewell was able to go back to the international presidents of the six shop crafts with rather a definite idea of what might be expected.

First of all, according to reports, it was made clear that the strikers must go back to their jobs before they can expect further consideration of the railroad labor board. On the other hand, before doing so, they probably would be given some assurance as to "consideration" they would receive.

First on One Point.

This, though in effect a compromise, actually left the leaders on the ground they had stood since the walkout started. Chairman Hopper had not budged from his position that the striking shop crafts could come before the labor board only in accordance with provisions of the transportation act—and to do so they could not be on strike. President Jewell, for his part, was still holding out for concessions he seems in a fair way of gaining.

Following the initial meeting, with Mr. Hopper, President Jewell had forty-eight hours in which to confer with other union leaders of the shop crafts. When the labor board chairman and Mr. Jewell met Monday night, again at the Auditorium hotel, yesterday's more general plan was decided upon.

These "Big In" at Conference.

Sitting in at the Hotel La Salle conference, in addition to the two labor board members and Mr. Jewell, were the following: all members of the executive council of the railway employees' department of the American Federation of Labor:

William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists; H. J. Carr, an executive board member of the same organization; J. A. Franklin, president, and William Atkinson, assistant president, of the International Brotherhood of Boiler-makers, Iron Shipbuilders and Helpers; James W. Eline, president, and Edward Tegmeyer, vice president, of the International Brotherhood of Blacksmiths, Drop Forgers and Helpers; James Burns, general representative of Amalgamated Sheet Metal Workers' International alliance; Edward J. Evans, vice president, of International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers; Martin F. Ryan, general president, and Frank Pasqua, general vice president, of the Brotherhood of Railway Car Men of America; and Timothy Healy, president of the International Brotherhood of Stationary Firemen and Others.

Resulting Situation of Men.

There is reason to believe, it was said, that the shopmen, in the case of the strike is called off as a result of the present negotiations, will occupy about the same position as the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Railroad Shop Laborers.

The one difference in the end would be that E. F. Grable, head of the maintenance men, received certain assurances that included the strike order. These included reference to abolition of contract work done by him and to the possibility of

Trainmen Threaten to Go Out on Strike as Protest Against Work Under Guard

Threatened walkouts of engineers, firemen, and all other railway employees at Bloomington in protest against the policing of railway property by troops, the reported success of a strike of clerks on an eastern road, a decision by signalmen to remain at work, and the calling of a conference of the brotherhood chiefs with railway managers in Chicago were features of yesterday's strike news.

In Bloomington the brotherhood men have been growing restless under the scrutiny of troops. They protested to their local leaders. These in turn announced they had wired their international president for permission to refuse to operate all save mail trains in territory patrolled by militiamen.

Confere with Soldiers.

Two conferences were held by the strikers, the brotherhood leaders, and Bloomington and militia authorities during the evening. The brotherhoods, which comprise the actual train crews, declared their willingness to operate trains up to the point where the military occupation commenced. Bloomington during the evening was quiet, despite the fact that strikebreakers were working in the shops.

Shop crafts leaders and citizens continued their efforts to have the troops withdrawn on the plea they were not necessary. In a conference with Col. Culbertson they were told that the easiest way to achieve that would be to withdraw the numerous pickets at the gate entrances and aid local authorities in every way to regain control of the situation.

Conference Here Today.

Following the requests of the Bloomington leaders and a telegraphic petition from a local union at Elkhon, Mo., for permission to walk out in sympathy with the shopmen, the presidents of the brotherhoods who Monday protested to the interstate commerce commission that their membership was being required to do strikebreaking work, asked a conference on this question with the Association of Railway Managers.

The conference will be held in Chicago today. Present will be T. De Witt Cuyler, chairman of the managerial association, and numerous other representatives of railroads, and Warren S. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; D. B. Robertson, president of the Brotherhood of Firemen and Enginemen; L. E. Sheppard, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors; and T. E. Cashion, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

of a rehearsing on the wage question.

Pending such a rehearsing—if rehearsing there is to be—the maintenance men are working under the $50,000,000 wage reduction order that became effective July 1. And likewise, it may be assumed, the shopmen would have to come back under the decision which cut their annual pay approximately $50,000,000.

The contract system, to which all railway labor objects, has been held by the labor board to be a violation of its orders and also of the transportation act. Less than twenty of 201 class 1 roads have practiced it. And virtually all of these have agreed to let no more work out on contracts.

Thus one of the chief obstacles to peace already has been all but disposed of.

U. S. WARNS R. R. STRIKERS MAIL MUST BE MOVED

mail service on the Wabash railway will be out of operation tomorrow, according to telegrams received by the postoffice department from S. H. Cliser, superintendent of mails at St. Louis. Mr. Cliser is also advised that the situation on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway is assuming serious proportions, and that the M. & T. is unable to provide train service since yesterday on the Hannibal and New Franklin line.

B. & O. R. R. Complaints.

C. W. Galloway, vice president of the Baltimore and Ohio, wired the postmaster general from Baltimore: "The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad company was obliged to annul the operation of its train No. 46 from Flora, Ill., to Shawneetown, Ill., yesterday morning and on that account was unable to perform United States mail service between these points on account of action of strikers, who would not permit our officers and employees who were on the ground at Flora to make up the train."

The administration has carefully planned program of action to be taken in the event that the strikers and their sympathizers should ignore the proclamation. Legal proceedings, civil and criminal, will be instituted by the department of justice against individual offenders and the unions.

May William U. & Troops.

The disposition at present is to rely on the various states for the protection of employees working in place of the strikers and to prevent interference with train operations. If, however, it should appear that the states are unable to furnish protection the President will order army forces to the scene.

Plans are under consideration for placing marines and soldiers on trains to insure uninterrupted transportation of the mails.

It is the hope of the President, however, that the proclamation will serve to calm the situation.

The President is gratified by the manner in which the labor board is procuring respect to its decisions. He believes that this is the crucial stage in the career of the board and that, if it weathers this period, it will be firmly established as an agency for the peaceful settlement of railway wage disputes.

$100,000 LOOT OF SAFE ROBBERS HERE; MAN HELD

With one member of a gang of desperate safe blowers, about $100,000 in loot in two months, held incommunicado at Hudson avenue station, police last night sought eight other men and sought to find a cache where platinum, jewelry, and money lay hidden.

The safe blowers are looked as Frank Brown. He is arrested by police to have a long criminal record. Detective Sergeant Edward Birmingham and John McQuinn arrested him as he was trying to sell $35,000 worth of platinum stolen from the safe of the Automatic Electric company, 317 West Van Buren street, Saturday morning.

In this robbery eight masked men bound Olaf Bergstrom, the watchman, shattered the safe, and escaped with

CAR MEN TO PUT
STRIKE VOTE UP
TO BLAIR TODAYBoth Sides to Mark Time
Till "L" Ballots.

Such idea in the street car wage controversy probably will mark time until after the elevated employees take their strike vote tomorrow.

William Quigley, president, and other officers of the car men's union will visit Henry A. Blair, president of the Chicago surface lines, at 1630 Clark this morning and formally notify him of the result of the strike vote taken on Monday, which resulted overwhelmingly in favor of a walkout.

The union men notified Mr. Blair they would submit a report to him yesterday afternoon, but at his request the meeting was deferred until today.

George B. Arnold, director of the city department of labor, yesterday sent letters to both Mr. Blair and the union offering the "good offices" of that department in mediating the differences existing between the company and the men. Replies spurring this offer probably will be sent to Mr. Arnold today.

No New Offer Expected.

It is not believed that Mr. Blair will submit another proposal to the union at the meeting this morning unless the strike leaders indicate that they are in a receptive mood for another offer at this time. Neither will the union officials submit a counter proposal.

President Quigley indicated yesterday that no further negotiations will be held until after the vote of the elevated employees is announced and that both sides probably will be jointly represented in any parleys that follow. It is doubtful that a walkout—if it comes—can be arranged for even Sunday.

Mahon Probably Will Be Called.

W. D. Mahon, international president of the street carmen's union, probably will be summoned from Detroit before any final action is decided upon. The day and hour for a walkout would be determined at a joint meeting of the officials of the two unions and such a meeting is not expected to be held until it is seen that joint arbitration is hopeless.

Almost as large a percentage of elevated employees, it is claimed, will vote in favor of a strike tomorrow as did the street carmen, 12,149 of whom cast their ballots in favor of a tieup of the transportation system. Only 37 votes were polled against a walkout.

Arnold's Offer to Mediate.

In his letter to Mr. Blair and the street carmen's union, Director Arnold stated that his attention had been called to the threatened strike by Mayor Thompson. He quoted the act of the legislature under which the industrial commission is empowered to act and laid emphasis on the point that "interest of the public overweighs all other issues."

To settle the differences existing between employer and employee, or at least an attempt to settle such differences, by conciliatory means would be a gratifying solution to employer, employee, and the public generally," he continued. "To that end I feel it is my duty, under the law herein set forth, to render the good offices of this department to mediate and conciliate the differences existing between the Chicago Surface Lines and its employees with a view of arriving at a settlement of the dispute without the necessity of a strike."

If Director Arnold's offer is turned down, as it probably will be, there is nothing further that he can do under the law until after a strike actually has been called. Then the state industrial commission, of which he is a member, may launch an investigation into the causes for the walkout, issue subpoenas, conduct hearings, and examine books and documents.

This course is optional. Although it is known that such a course is in line with the program mapped out by the city hall attorneys, Director Arnold declared no definite policy had been decided upon as yet by his department.

The industrial commission is com-

CAUSE OF A NEIGHBORHOOD ROW

This property at 4200 North Paulina street has been purchased by philanthropic women, who propose to turn it into a "Mary club"—a home for erring girls who are or have been wards of the juvenile court. The residents of the neighborhood have formed an organization to protest against permitting the girls to come into the vicinity of their homes.

posed of five members, two representing labor, two the employers, and the fifth, the chairman, representing the public. At the present time, however, there are two vacancies on the board. Ernest Witball, chairman, represents the public; Robert Eadie, a former miner, the employees, and Christopher Kuntzman, a coal operator, the employers.

Won't Act on "L" Dispute.

Director Arnold declared he had not discussed the situation with any of the parties to the controversy nor with city hall officials further than to hold a five minutes' chat with Assistant Corporation Counsel James W. Breen.

Director Arnold, who is a charter member of the elevated employees' union, said he would not offer his services in mediating the differences between that union and President Britton I. Budd even after a strike vote has been taken. He said that Mayor Thompson specifically had mentioned only the street car men's controversy in requesting him to offer the conciliatory powers of his department.

North Shore to Vote on Cut.

Decision to call for a special referendum vote next week on whether or not to accept the wage reduction ordered by the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee Electric railroad was reached last night by 750 union employees of the company at a meeting in Highwood. A definite date for the vote was not announced. The opinion prevailed that the men would not submit to a delegate.

The meeting last night followed a series of conferences between representatives of the employees and President Budd, at which President Budd submitted a proposal cutting the pay from 73 to 70 cents an hour on Sept. 1. This cut, based on the entire year, amounts to about 3 1/2 per cent. The previous offer by the company, which was turned down by the union, called for a 5 per cent cut on Sept. 1 and another 5 per cent cut on Jan. 1 next. The new proposal covers only the one reduction.

City Prepares for Strike.

Large business concerns already are making preparations for meeting a tieup of local transportation and railroads.

Let to right: E. F. Wilson, secretary, and Dr. A. J. Behrendt, vice president of the Ravenswood Protective association, formed to fight the location of a "Mary club" at 4200 North Paulina street.

are planning to increase their suburban service, despite the shopmen's strike. The management of State street stores made inquiries at the offices of the Chicago Surface Lines yesterday to inquire whether or not it would be advisable to advertise bargain sales next Monday. They were informed they were as "good guessers" as the traction officials as to whether or when a strike will come.

All taxicab companies are rushing repairs on cabs in order to place every available one in service. It is estimated there are more than 300,000 automobiles which can be mobilized to take care of the passengers who ordinarily use the surface lines. Both the Commonwealth Edison company and the Chicago Telephone company are preparing routes to be traversed by fleets of trucks which will carry the thousands of employees to and from work.

ERRING GIRLS'
HOME FOUGHT
IN RAVENSWOODProperty Owners Oppose
Mary Club Plan.

Bitter antagonism to a Mary club—a home for erring girls—in Ravenswood, came to a climax last night in a mass meeting where protesting property owners and a number of prominent social workers engaged in a wordy battle to a draw.

Despite the fact that the proposed new branch of the institution is sponsored by many leading women of the city, among them Miss Mary Bartelme, assistant to Judge Arnold of the juvenile court; Mrs. Harry Hart, Parkway hotel, president of the organization, and Mrs. Hubbard Carpenter, 677 North Michigan avenue, the property owners voiced indignant disapproval of the home at the meeting.

In proof of the sternness of their opposition they voted to engage attorneys if necessary to fight the establishment of the girls' home in Ravenswood. They called the home "a menace of vicious young girls against our homes." They said they intended to use every means to bar the club from the neighborhood.

Fight Began Weeks Ago.

Opposition to the home, which crystallized last night was born several weeks ago in the home of Dr. Arthur J. Behrendt, 4220 North Paulina street. Property owners had just been apprised of the waiters' workers' plans. Even then opposition to the home was adamant and the sponsors were so notified.

Despite this opposition the sponsors to the property owners in answer sent word that they would attend a meeting and explain the objects of the home. The meeting was arranged for last night. A large number were in attendance. The social workers told of their objects but without eliciting enthusiasm. Ravenswood residents voiced nothing but harsh antagonism to the project.

Despite this opposition the sponsors of the home were still hopeful after the meeting that they might yet win over the opposition. They contended the Ravenswood people did not rightly understand the purpose of the home.

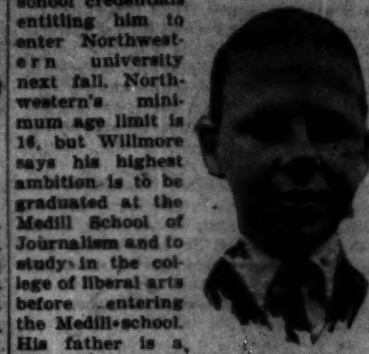

Two Clubs Now Exist.

There are two Mary clubs, where wayward girls, some of them dependent mothers, who are wards of the juvenile court, are given the proper social care and medical attention. The property for the proposed new branch has already been purchased and notices were recently mailed to persons residing in the vicinity of 4200 North Paulina street.

E. F. Wilson, an attorney, was elected secretary and treasurer of the Ravenswood Protective association. Charles E. Schramm, wealthy hotel-maker, was elected president, and Dr.

LONDON, July 11.—(Special telegraphic testimony was given in the divorce court today when John Hugo Russell, heir of Lord Amphil, admitted in the course of testimony against his wife that he had masqueraded as a woman. Mrs. Russell called herself "another Virgin Mary" after the birth of her child because she had made her husband, before their wedding, sign an agreement that he should never be consummated, and then explained her situation by telling him he had walked in his sleep and "acted hungrily."

BERLIN PAYMENT DUE SATURDAY CUT ONE-THIRD

Reparations Board Acts to Allay Crisis.

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1922, by The Chicago Tribune.)
PARIS, July 11.—The payment of the 50,000,000 gold marks ($12,500,000) reparations due next Saturday was practically assured today through the reparations commission deciding to credit Germany on this installment with 15,000,000 gold marks ($4,500,000) accumulated through the delivery of coal to Luxembourg and dyes to the textile alliance. Germany will only be required to pay 35,000,000 gold marks ($8,000,000).

The commission will not make a decision regarding Germany's request for a cash moratorium until the return of the guarantee committee from Berlin. James Logan, the unofficial American member of the committee, is returning to Paris tomorrow to talk with Roland W. Boyden, who will sail for America Saturday for a month's vacation. Mr. Logan will act as the American reparations delegate.

Fear Central Europe Collapse.
The collapse of the mark and the reparations crisis are eclipsed in the eyes of the French government and the general staff by the prospect of central Europe tumbling like a house of cards. The face of German insolvency and bolshevism menaces. "Prime Minister Lloyd George is worried over the political consequences in central and western Europe which would result from a financial catastrophe to Germany," wrote Jacques Bainville in La Liberté tonight. "He has a right to, for Europe's house of cards is on the verge of tumbling. Austria is held by a thread. Other states are feeble and unorganized. If Poland holds though the rest are in chaos, there will be some hope. Can France count solidly on Poland? That is the question."

Blames President Pilsudski.
"It seems, unfortunately, that it is as difficult to stabilize Polish politics as money. Ministries pass continuously. President Pilsudski tries to govern by himself through a sort of dictatorship. President Pilsudski wishes to have his ministries have confidence in himself and parliament, but parliament has no confidence in M. Pilsudski. "There is only one thing to say to our Polish friends. Chaos is coming. They need to have order in the country for themselves and for France, their natural ally. Amidst the events coming in Europe only the countries having order will be saved."

Fear for Bolshevism.
The French general staff frankly fears that the collapse of Germany will make Bulgaria, Austria, Poland, Rou-

FOE OF LODGE

SHERMAN L. WHIPPLE.

Boston, Mass., July 11.—(Special.)—Sherman L. Whipple, a leading attorney of Boston, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States senator "to contest the reelection of Senator Lodge."

"I have no illusions as to the contest upon which we are entering," Mr. Whipple declared. "Senator Lodge represents in the senate the power of organized money interests. They will fight to the last ditch to retain him. We can win against such odds only if, and because, we are fighting for right."

PUT POLITICS FIRST

BY GEORGE SELDES.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1922, by The Chicago Tribune.)
BERLIN, July 11.—Germany will pay the reparations commission 50,000,000 gold marks ($12,500,000) on Saturday. According to German officials word was received from the entente that this installment must be paid, no matter what may be the results of the present moratorium and loan conference. However, the officials announced that 15,000,000 marks ($4,500,000), the value of materials which already have been delivered, will be deducted from the 50,000,000 marks.

Meanwhile, the German government occupied itself today with politics. The reichstag was flooded with speeches on the defense of the republic law, which the monarchists and Bavarians are opposing.

In the corridors of the reichstag the interest centered on announcements that the police have surrounded two of Dr. Rathenau's murderers, and on a report that after questioning three student suspects in Munich the police took Gen. Ludendorff into custody, but released him because of insufficient evidence to connect him with the murder organization.

Russians Urge Revolt.
Another disturbing element today was an appeal to the workers to start a revolution against the monarchists. This appeal comes from the third international in Moscow, and is regarded as a breach of the Rapallo treaty by the Russian government, because it shows that the soviets are openly carrying on propaganda for a revolution. The Bavarians refuse to accept the defense of the republic law, which would root out the monarchists from all government offices, including the postoffice, telegraph service, and city administration, and in fact, the entire officialdom, which is almost 100 per cent monarchist. In public meetings in Bavaria there is talk of resisting the law with violence, and also a renewal of the separatist idea, which has French support.

WAITS ON FRANCE

BY HENRY WALES.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
(Copyright, 1922, by The Chicago Tribune.)
LONDON, July 11.—No action was taken on Germany's threatened and impending bankruptcy by the British cabinet today.

Prime Minister Lloyd George and his colleagues practically ignored the German crisis, because it was admitted that the British government acting alone is impotent to help the situation. The prime minister took the view that France is chiefly interested in Germany's solvency through its 52 per cent interest in the German reparations and he decided to await Premier Poincaré's action. A meeting between the two premiers is expected soon.

British May Abandon Claims.
Mr. Lloyd George will inform M. Poincaré's action. A meeting between to abandon the 22 per cent of the reparations due it according to the Spa appointment if France is willing to reopen and readjust the reparations problem and to settle it finally and definitely.

nately. This offer will be made without a string attached regarding war debts or questions outside reparations. Mr. Lloyd George decided to name immediately the British delegates who will proceed to Washington at once to confer with American treasury department officials regarding the refunding of the war loans in accordance with the Mellon bill.

The British delegates will have plenary powers to make all arrangements to dispose of the British debt to America, amounting to $4,000,000,000, and gold shipments from England will begin next month to pay the interest.

Mr. Lloyd George will instruct the delegates to assure the United States officials that Great Britain does not consider the American debt as involved in Europe's war debts or in reparations.

SPURGIN'S LIFE TALE OF 'DAMNED FOOL'—REYNOLDS

Banker Bares Checkered
Career of Kinsman.

Sharp criticism of officials of the defunct Michigan Avenue Trust company, and a dramatic history of his nephew, Warren C. Spurgin, abounding president of the wrecked institution, featured the testimony yesterday of George M. Reynolds, chairman of the board of directors of the Continental and Commercial National bank, before Master in Chancery Edwin A. Klump.

Mr. Reynolds was testifying in the action of some 150 "last day depositors" of the defunct bank to recover $150,000 from John W. O'Leary, the receiver. "They charge that for several days before the crash the bank officials knew that the institution was insolvent."

Spurgin's story, embracing his beginning as a farm boy in a small Iowa town, his experiences in many professions, and his meteoric rise to a bank presidency, which culminated in his flight to Mexico, leaving a $1,000,000 delinquency, was characterized by Mr. Reynolds as "the record of a damned fool, who had made a colossal failure of his life."

Long Record of Getting Help.

"Spurgin's life is one long record of his having been the beneficiary of the help and assistance of others," said Mr. Reynolds, who concluded that if Spurgin had remained to make an honest effort, to save the institution, he would have received more aid.

Under the questioning of Louis G. Caldwell, counsel for the depositors, and Matthew Mills, attorney for Mr. O'Leary, Mr. Reynolds told the story of his nephew's birth in Peoria, Ill., forty-six years ago.

Spurgin's first banking experience, as an assistant cashier in the Guthrie Center, Ill., bank, ended disastrously. Mr. Reynolds said, when Spurgin became involved with a woman, whom he took to Omaha for a ten days' visit. Real estate deals in Minnesota and other banking positions in Iowa, Texas, and Alabama, preceded Spurgin's return to Peoria, where he apparently regained his former position and entered politics, becoming chairman of the county Republican committee, and eventually postmaster of Peoria.

Recommends Spurgin for Job.

"In 1901, London G. Rose, then president of the Michigan Avenue Trust company, told me he was looking for a likely young man," said Mr. Reynolds. "I recommended Spurgin, and he became assistant cashier at a salary of $250 a month."

"Spurgin bought some stock in the bank and I loaned him $4,000 or $5,000, which, together with what he had, allowed him to buy $10,000 worth of the bank's stock."

Mr. Reynolds professed ignorance of the cause of Rose's resignation from the presidency, asserting that he was in California in 1914, when the change was made, and it was not until his return, that he became aware of Spurgin's succession to the position.

"I gave Spurgin some advice on loans," said Mr. Reynolds, "but not much, as he seemed to avoid meeting me after he was elected president. I guess that was because I talked business with him."

Fooled By Frank Gaze.

"I thought the man was honest. He looked me squarely in the face and completely disarmed me. I believed him. If ever a man had a chance to make a success of himself, it was Warren Spurgin."

"I told him that the directors were running the bank and that he must examine them, and if one of them demanded an examination, he should order it."

"I asked him if he was using any of the bank's funds for his own use or that of any of his companies. He said, 'You know I couldn't do that.' I told him I thought the answer was evasive and asked again if he had loaned any money to his companies. He said, 'Only about $15,000 or $20,000. Uncle George, I could go back and take up those notes.'" ren Spurgin. I would do anything in my power to clean up this situation and to make him take his punishment. I have been outraged and have lost more money because of him than any one else."

Incidents of untoward incidents came to him less than ten days prior to the crash of the bank. Mr. Reynolds testified. Henry Paulman, a director, told him on July 8, that Spurgin was having a "run in" with another director, Alexander Sherwood, who had demanded the privilege of having the bank's books examined by his personal accountant.

"I called Spurgin on the phone," said Mr. Reynolds, "and we had lunch together. I asked him about the trouble with Sherwood and he admitted it, but told me that Sherwood was trying to force him to buy his (Sherwood's) stock."

Spurgin's failure to take up the notes or order the promised examination, were detailed by Mr. Reynolds. A conversation with the cashier of the bank, A. C. Beutel, was mentioned by Mr. Reynolds, in which the cashier told of his fears that all was not well with the bank.

According to Beutel, Spurgin ordered him to New York to examine and while the cashier was gone, substituted notes of his fictitious companies for bank bonds valued at $600,000. Immediately on receipt of this information, Mr. Reynolds said he summoned Paulman and Beutel, and notified them that in his opinion the bank was insolvent and ordered its closing.

I told them I was talking, not as the uncle of Warren C. Spurgin, but as the vice president of the Chicago Clearing House," declared Mr. Reynolds.

HARDING IS WELL SATISFIED WITH COAL SITUATION

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—The administration is well satisfied with the trend of events in the coal situation. It was stated at the White House today, notwithstanding the failure of the miners and operators to reply to the President's proposal for settling the strike.

The President, it was understood, feels that a way toward settlement would be found, and that the country would be amply supplied with coal.

Operators to Study Plan.

Bituminous operators of the central competitive field will meet tomorrow in Pittsburgh to consider the President's proposal. This was the only move today in response to the President's efforts to end the strike.

Senator Borah (Idaho), chairman of the senate labor committee, today declared that immediately following settlement of the present difficulty congress would have to give serious consideration to government control of the mines as a means of permanent adjustment of the coal situation.

"The suggestion of the President with reference to going back to work pending a permanent settlement is extremely desirable," said Senator Borah. "But I do not believe that anything short of drastic control by the government of the coal industry will bring permanent relief."

Science Practitioner One
Alleged Victim.

Some of the methods of the Smith-Martin Co. investment brokers, 800 Continental & Commercial Bank building, were dissected yesterday before Frank L. Wean, referee in bankruptcy, in the Mondack block.

It was the second hearing of witnesses for claims against the company who last January filed a petition of involuntary bankruptcy against it.

Could Not Get Bonds.

With the testimony of two witnesses the petitioning creditors closed their case. One of them was M. Bannan Cummings, an insurance man, who testified he had been unable to obtain delivery of $1,000 in Liberty bonds, which the company held for him or $10,000 worth of stock it had bought for him. Herman F. Steinborn, a Christian Science practitioner, testified he had been sold $5,375 worth of stock in a company that never was a "going concern" and in vain had demanded the repayment of his money.

The Smith-Martin company appeared at its present La Salle street address about 1918. The Smith of the company is Emory J. Smith, 804 Judson avenue, Evanston, formerly in the banking business at Columbus, O. His partner is John P. Martin of the Sherman hotel.

Trustee Under Arrest.

It has been reported last year they converted their Illinois corporation into a "common law trust," the trustee being Smith's three sons. One of them, Donald, was arrested recently on charges of operating a confidence game and was held to the grand jury under bonds of $2,000. The complainant, George A. Arndt, charged that he had exchanged an automobile for $1,000 worth of bonds, $600 of which proved "worthless."

The answer of the company in the bankruptcy proceedings has been that none of the petitioning creditors has a valid claim against them. The proof of the claims was taken up yesterday by Attorney J. Arthur Miller.

Mr. Cummings testified that early in 1932 he had a balance with the Smith-Martin company, consisting of $4,275 cash, $1,000 in Liberty bonds, and the shares of Pisk Rubber preferred.

He asked them to buy 200 shares of Chicago Pneumatic Tube stock and on March 18, 1932, received a written confirmation of the purchase.

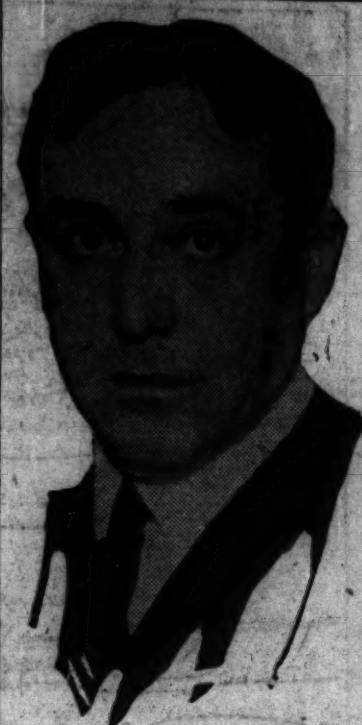

Decided to Transfer.

He then decided, he said, to transfer his account to Babcock, Rushton & Co., but in response to a telephone request went to see Mr. Smith at his home.

There, he said, Smith told him that the Pneumatic Tube stock could not be delivered because it was in the office of Eugene Hoynes & Co., who had taken their order about a week earlier.

Witness Steinborn, who had been Mr. Martin's Christian Science practitioner, testified that in 1929 he bought 100 shares of "General Bond and Mortgage Co." stock. He said he had been assured the business of the Smith-Martin company was to be turned over to this new company and produced advertising literature covering the subject and the excellence of this opportunity for investment.

Steinborn said further that he had resold most of his stock to six or seven other persons. He had bought it at $22.50 and sold most of it at $50, but when the purchasers became alarmed about the stock he had the stock turned back to him and agreed to "settle."

WOMEN TO WORK FOR WORLD PEACE AS FIRST PLANK

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—World peace is the first plank in the platform of six women candidates for congress, all of whom are prepared with definite legislative proposals for achieving that end, according to a statement issued today by the national council for reduction of armaments.

Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, daughter of the late Representative William E. Mason, who is a Republican candidate for the house, advocates an amendment to the constitution making the declaration of war impossible except by direct vote of the people.

"The one great thing in the world to me is permanent peace, and I shall work for it wherever I am," she said.

Equally decided sentiments were expressed by Miss Belle Kearney of Mississippi, who is a candidate to succeed Senator John Sharp Williams; Mrs. Letitia Jewell Brown, of West Virginia; and Mrs. Lella Scott Edmondson, of Alabama, Democratic candidates respectively for the senate and house of representatives.

WILKERSON MAY SUCCEED LANDIS ON BENCH TODAY

Named by Harding; Expect Prompt Approval.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—[Special.]—President Harding today sent to the senate the nomination of James H. Wilkerson to be federal judge of the Northern district of Illinois to succeed Judge Landis. It was strongly urged by both Illinois senators, McCormack and McKinley, and by the Illinois Bar association.

It is understood the appointment was hastened by the possibility of legal action by the government in the federal courts in connection with the railroad strike and by the ill health of Judge Carpenter.

The nomination will be referred to the senate judiciary committee for examination, but it is expected it will be confirmed without delay or opposition.

MAY TAKE OATH TODAY.

Confirmation of James H. Wilkerson as United States district judge for the Landis vacancy, if made by the United States senate this morning, is to be followed by immediate induction of the new judge to the federal bench.

The belief prevailed in Chicago last night that the new judge would assume the oath of office today.

District Judge Carpenter, it is known, is anxious to depart on vacation. Effort was made several weeks ago to obtain the approval of Chicago Republican leaders to the nomination of Mr. Wilkerson. At that time he was in the midst of the Small trial at Waukegan and the effort failed.

Politically, in Chicago, news of the appointment was distinctly satisfactory to the regular organization represented by the Brundage-Deneen-Crowe forces. The city hall and the Small down state Republicans, it is understood, had gone as far as possible in transmitting objections to the President.

Long Career in Chicago.

James H. Wilkerson has had a long career here as county attorney, member of the Illinois legislature, assistant and later United States district attorney and assistant to Attorney General Brundage.

He was born at Savannah, Mo., Dec. 11, 1869, graduated from De Pauw university and started the practice of law in Chicago.

An assistant district attorney he prosecuted the Standard Oil rebating cases in which Judge Landis announced the famous $23,000 fine. In 1914 Mr. Wilkerson headed the prosecution of the anti-trust suits against the leading packers.

LEIPSI SCHULZ ASKS LUTHERANS FOR U. S. SYSTEM

Lutherans of Leipzig, Germany, desire the reorganization of their seminary on the basis of American standards, according to a report yesterday at a meeting of the Lutheran board of foreign missions at the Hotel Sherman.

It was said that Prof. W. H. T. Dau of Concordia seminary, St. Louis, had been called by the Lutheran synod of Europe to Leipzig to rearrange a seminary on an American basis.

There are 650 men doing mission work in Canada and United States and missions were also established in Brazil and Argentina, South America; France, England, Germany, Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Norway, and Sweden.

It is understood the appointment was hastened by the possibility of legal action by the government in the federal courts in connection with the railroad strike and by the ill health of Judge Carpenter.

The nomination will be referred to the senate judiciary committee for examination, but it is expected it will be confirmed without delay or opposition.

IRISH REBELS 'ON RUN'; LEAVE TRAIL OF FIRES

Burn Buildings as They Flee Free Staters.

DUBLIN, July 11.—[By the Associated Press.]—The warfare being waged by national army forces against the irregulars in the country districts is becoming a guerrilla character. The most part of the insurgents have been driven from their positions and are being pursued, leaving a trail of burning buildings. Prisoners taken by the national army are said to be poorly supplied with arms and equipment.

An official communique today announced that a convoy of troops from Limerick to Ennis Saturday evening captured a body of irregulars near Gort and took twelve prisoners.

One of the irregulars was killed and several others were wounded. The regulars lost one man killed by the irregulars.

In County Louth, between Dunleer and Drogheda, a party of seventeen irregulars was attacked by the Free State forces, who took twelve prisoners and much material.

Occupied Most of Midlands.
National army troops now occupy all the towns and villages in the Irish midlands, except Tullamore in Kings County.

Public is comparatively quiet. Two unsuccessful attempts were made last evening to ambush regular troops.

The full list of military casualties in the recent fighting in Dublin, issued today by the National army headquarters, shows that nineteen soldiers were killed and 111 wounded. It is estimated that sixty-five civilians were killed and 211 wounded.

First Halls Rebel Attack.
DUBLIN, July 11.—A band of republicans entered Manor Hamilton, County Leitrim, and prepared to attack the Free Staters barracks, when the Free Staters asked them to stop, threatening to place them in front and rear the first shots. His appeal was effective.

Insurgents Occupy Town.
LONDON, July 11.—The town of Castleblinagh and Raphoe in County Donegal have been recaptured by the national forces, says a Central News dispatch from Strabane, on the Tyrone-Donegal border.

Righeimer to Rule Today on Continuing Recount
County Judge Righeimer is to determine today whether the recount of the Democratic primary votes for county commissioner shall continue. With 13 precincts recounted up to last night, each of the leading seventeen candidates had registered losses as compared with the official count varying from 64 to 1,728. The indications are Judge Righeimer will direct that a recount be completed as to Municipal ward judges and that the roll over nominations for county commissioner be dropped.

FOREIGN LANGUAGE PRESS.
"The Foreign Language Press," appearing under above date deals with a book in which real Americans have for years been much concerned. It is in question that the use of foreign languages in this country as it is to foreign born will give rise to bad feeling and misunderstanding, and this Tribune is a great service in acquiring a knowledge of editorialial appearing in native foreign language publications and the use of English speaking.

ADRIAN VAN NUYSEN.
NORTH SIDE IMPROVEMENT.
July 8.—We noticed in the other morning that you had new ideas along the north shore. We have to have a foot path under Sheridan road, with booths for the residences or traffic. We have this idea to the limit, and the idea of the north side should be followed.

At the same time, let's have another laid down east of the present leaving a strip 15 or 20 feet wide for the lamps, trees, etc. Now place the next roadbed just commencing at the Drake hotel ending in Lincoln park. Then a road of double roadbed in Lincoln park to the jackknife bridge to Diversey. Again continuing the roadbed to Irving Park boulevard. This the same in appearance as the boulevard on the south side. We want to meet with the hearty support of all the residents along the boulevard. It would relieve the congestion. It would be continuous. The boulevard would be widened. It would take away all widening the present roadway, out the trees, disturbing the beautiful appearance.

N. C. MERRILL.

July 11.—The town of Castleblinagh and Raphoe in County Donegal have been recaptured by the national forces, says a Central News dispatch from Strabane, on the Tyrone-Donegal border.

NAME PASSMORE IN PARKER PLACE ON G. O. P. TICKET

John H. Passmore, former alderman from the old Third ward, yesterday was the unanimous choice of the Republican county committee for the vacancy on the Republican county ticket caused by the death of the late William R. Parker.

The selection of Mr. Passmore was made by the regular organization in the upper south side territory, led by United States Marshal Robert R. Levy.

It was acquiesced in by the Deaneen forces, represented by Roy O. West, Recorder Hans, Isaac N. Powell, and other Deaneen leaders present at the committee session in Hotel Sherman.

State's Attorney Crowe's forces were present and the county towns were fully represented.

Mr. Passmore is a lawyer, an alumnus of the University of Michigan in the law class of 1907, is a former assistant corporation counsel in charge of track elevation matters, and was alderman from the Third ward from 1919 to 1921. He lives at 4319 Drexel boulevard.

SUSPECT STILL IN FLEE.
Heating apparatus under a 100 gallon still in the basement of a frame dwelling at 353 West Grand avenue is believed to have been responsible for a $2,000 fire there yesterday. Anthony and John, owners of the property, were placed under arrest.

U.S. TROOPS MAY SOON EVACUATE SANTO DOMINGO

Citizens of Island to Decide Question.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—The state department announced today that a tentative program for evacuation of Santo Domingo by American military forces had been agreed upon with a group of Dominican leaders who have been in Washington some months on their own initiative in conference with department officials. The program will be carried out, the statement said, "as soon as it can be ascertained whether it meets with the approval of a majority of the Dominican people."

The department further announced that Sumner Welles of New York, former chief of the Latin American division of the department, had been appointed commissioner to the Dominican republic with the rank of envoy and minister and would leave immediately for the island to ascertain the views of the population on the American withdrawal plan.

A summary of the program provides that a provisional government of Santo Domingo shall be established, composed of Dominican citizens which will conduct general elections "without the intervention" of American authorities for installation of a subsequent permanent government.

After installation of the provisional government the American military forces will be concentrated in two or three centers, leaving the task of maintaining order to the Dominican national police except where the police may be unable to cope with the situation. A convention providing for recognition by the Dominican government of all executive orders of the present military government will be negotiated to include specific recognition of the bond issues of 1918.

When a constitutional president and congress shall have been elected and installed and shall have approved the above mentioned convention, the statement said, American forces would be withdrawn.

HARDING SEES STATE AND CITY DEBT MENACE

"No Telling What People Owe"; Lauds Budget.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—(Special.)—While acknowledging congratulations on the extraordinary economies effected by the federal budget system in the last year, President Harding today, in addressing several hundred bureau chiefs, called for still greater retrenchment, and asserted there was no other menace to the nation today equal to the "mounting state and municipal debts."

They were accumulating so fast, he declared, that there was "no way of knowing the present obligations of the American people." He asked the cooperation of federal executives in practicing economy, "as an example to the nation," and warned of a prospective $100,000,000 federal deficit during the current fiscal year.

Must Stay Within Revenue.

Gen. Lord, the new director of the budget, submitted in detail the prospective revenue and expenditures and the President said he would stand squarely behind Gen. Lord, as he supported Gen. Dawes, in curtailing expenses and introducing more economical methods of administration. The President said he would not send to congress a budget exceeding the revenue, and would slash estimates if the departments failed to do so.

"The report of the bureau for the budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1922," said Mr. Harding, "is a record of real achievement of which you may all be proud, for without your intelligent cooperation this gratifying result would not have been possible. Last August it was estimated, on information supplied by the spending agencies of the government, that withdrawal from the treasury for the fiscal year just terminated would be $4,554,000,000. The last treasury estimate shows this figure was reduced to $3,718,000,000, a reduction of $759,000,000."

Good Showing of Past Year.

"The best estimate of receipts for the current fiscal year is $3,974,000,000, while estimated expenditures are placed at $3,771,000,000, an apparent excess of expenditure of $203,000,000."

"But the past year's experience has demonstrated we need not be unduly concerned over such prospective deficits when we have the benefit of the budget organization and of your cooperation." Last year, in the annual report on the budget, a deficit of $24,000,000 was forecast; instead, we closed that fiscal year with a surplus of receipts over expenditures of $213,000,000—this despite the government's receipts falling off $1,515,000,000. That is, the government reduced by $1,515,000,000 the amount which is collected from the people, and yet, because it was able to prune its expenditures by

$1,745,000,000. It produced an actual surplus.

"That is certainly a gratifying accomplishment, which ought to inspire great efforts the coming year. There is an offset due to last year's operations of $272,000,000, which represents the general balance in the treasury at the close of the fiscal year 1922."

"The prospective net deficit of $495,000,000 for the current fiscal year is a challenge to us all. We must here resolve that through our efforts expenses will be kept within income. There must be utmost economy."

"If in your jurisdictions you find activities and expenditures that can properly be curtailed or eliminated, I admonish you to do it. If the laws do not leave it within your power to do it, submit it to the President for recommendation of congressional action. The business head of the government does not and cannot contemplate or expect that expenditures this year will exceed income."

On the Estimates for 1924.

"The preparation of estimates for the fiscal year 1924 is the next immediate duty. For that year, estimated receipts are $3,198,000,000, or approximately $600,000,000 less than the appropriations for the current year plus authorizations for expenditures not included in the appropriations. We must all keep constantly in mind that the probable receipts for 1924 will not permit as liberal appropriations as for 1922."

DANIEL DONAHOE, LAWYER IN FUNK SCANDAL, IS DEAD

A stroke of paralysis of the heart, coming on Monday night, resulted in the death yesterday of Daniel Donahoe, 3451 Jackson boulevard, for nearly a half century one of Chicago's best known criminal lawyers.

Although the attorney was one of the leading counsel in the famed Cronin case, the Burlington railroad dynamite strike suit, the Gus Callender political murder trial, and a score of others, it was from the fact that his name was officially stricken from the lists of lawyers eligible to practice in Illinois that he was best known.

Disbarred in 1917.

Mr. Donahoe was disbarred from legal practice in 1917, for participating in an alleged "frame-up" against Clarence F. Funk, then manager of the International Harvester company. The attorney represented John C. Henning, a bellboy, who had filed suit against Funk charging alienation of his wife's affections. The suit was finally decided in eleven minutes in the Harvester official's favor.

Soon after, Mrs. Josephine Henning admitted a fraud, and declared Donahoe the "framer." He was indicted. The bellboy substantiated his wife, and the attorney was found guilty and fined $2,000. The original attack on Funk came about through his testimony declaring that he had been asked by Edward Hines, the lumberman, to contribute to a fund to "put over" William Lorimer as United States senator.

Supreme Court Opposes.

Donahoe took the disbarment case to the Supreme court, which decided against him for good and all in April, 1921.

The attorney, who was 70 years old, will be buried tomorrow in Huntley, Ill., where he was born. Funeral services will be held at the Precious Blood Roman Catholic church. He is survived by Mrs. Donahoe; two sons, Leo and Henry, brothers James and John, and sisters Mrs. Mary Hunter and Miss Catherine Donahoe.

Illinois Central Railroad Company

Chicago, Illinois, July 10, 1922.

TO ALL ILLINOIS CENTRAL SYSTEM SHOPMEN:

On June 14th I addressed a communication to you in which I appealed to you to cast your vote against the proposed strike. Since that time the strike has been called by your leaders, and some of you have left your positions, while others have remained steadfast. I feel that the time has arrived when I should make clear to those of you who have left your positions, as well as those of you who have remained, the position of the Illinois Central System with reference to this entire matter.

In my letter to you of June 14th I enumerated the three things which your leaders proposed to have you strike against, namely: (1) contracting of shop plants to outsiders; (2) the order of the United States Railroad Labor Board relating to rules and working conditions, and (3) the order of the United States Railroad Labor Board establishing rates of pay effective July 1.

The question of contracting shops to outsiders is not a part of the controversy so far as you and the management of the Illinois Central System are concerned, because this railway system has not contracted any of its shops to outsiders. The questions involved in the matter of rules and working conditions and the order establishing rates of pay effective July 1 are the only ones at issue. They are not questions between you and the Illinois Central System management. They were decided by the United States Railroad Labor Board and those of you who are out on strike are striking against lawful decisions of a branch of the United States government.

It goes without saying that the public welfare cannot permit the revocation of a decision of a governmental agency under a threat of the use of force. No patriotic citizen would expect such a thing to be done, or would have it done. We believe that we have the best government in the world, but you will all agree with me that it would not long so remain if its institutions could be overridden and set aside in the manner sought by those who are contending against the lawful decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board.

The management of the Illinois Central System believes that those of you who are out on strike have been misled. It bears no feeling of hostility toward those who left its service. To those who have remained loyal it acknowledges a debt of gratitude. It feels that it has a valuable asset in its old employees, and it is eager to hold them together. It believes that, if those of you who are out will calmly analyze the issues upon which you are striking, your better judgment will assert itself and you will return to your positions. I sincerely invite you to return. Moreover, I earnestly advise you to pursue that course.

Those who report for duty not later than 11:59 P. M. Monday, July 17, 1922, may do so with the resumption of full seniority and pension rights and will be treated as if their services had been continuous. Those returning after that time, if accepted, will rank as new employees.

I trust that those of you who are out will consider this matter seriously and that your action, whatever it may be, will turn out to be for your own best interests, as well as the best interests of your families and those dependent upon you for a living.

I ask those of you who are striking to bear in mind that you accepted the decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board when they were favorable to you, and that the Illinois Central System accepted those decisions which were unfavorable to it. Let me also again remind you that since December 1917, you have received three general increases in wages and that your hourly rates of wages in effect at present, as fixed by the United States Railroad Labor Board, are from 40 to 113 per cent higher than in 1917, as follows:

	July 1922, Hourly Rates	1917, Hourly Rates	Increases Over 1917
Machinists, boilermakers and blacksmiths.	.70c	50c	40%
Helpers, various classes	.47c	29 1/2 to 32 1/2c	45 to 59%
Coach carpenters	.70c	40c	75%
Freight car carpenters	.63c	35 1/2c	77%
Car repairmen	.63c	29 1/2c	113%

Upon reflection, I believe that you will be broad-minded enough to accept the recent decisions of the United States Railroad Labor Board which you consider unfavorable. A long-drawn-out contest would mean losses and suffering not only for you and your families, but also for the public. We should all recognize that the public interest always rises above the interests of the railroad or of its employees.

None of us is fortunate enough to have issues affecting his life always decided in his favor. The principle of "rule or ruin" invariably has led to disaster. It can have no other ending. The wisdom of the principles of "give and take" and "live and let live" have been fully demonstrated. Those are the principles upon which we desire to conduct this railway system for the benefit of the public, the employees and the owners.

The management of the Illinois Central System is under obligations to serve the public with uninterrupted transportation and under any conditions which may arise it must faithfully discharge that obligation.

I ask that you accept this letter in that same friendly spirit in which I address you, free from any feeling of hostility or censure for anything that has been said or done in regard to this unhappy affair.

C. H. MARKHAM,
President.

Old-Time Ventilation

This was our "ventilating system" in 1908. This funny old exhaust fan was originally used in a saw-mill and eventually found its way to a junk yard where we bought it for $28.

It was a God-send to us in those primitive days of the motion-picture theatre, because, after two audiences had been in the house, the air was thick enough to slice. Gee! we can remember it yet.

We put the fan in a hole in the wall and attached it to the electric light power. It was effective, all right enough, but when it was turned on, the lights went down and the pictures became dim and vague.

At full speed the fan made a noise like an approaching cyclone. The roar and the rattle frightened half the audience, and annoyed the other half to the point of murder.

In the alley across from us was a restaurant. And when the fan really got busy, it caught up the smells from the restaurant kitchen and distributed them around the neighborhood. And it wasn't good advertising for the restaurant.

Can you wonder, after those experiences, that we all became bugs on the subject of ventilation and dug up everything that had ever been written about it? No one in this wide world had more cause to analyze, dissect, bisect and study the subject of fresh air and ventilation.

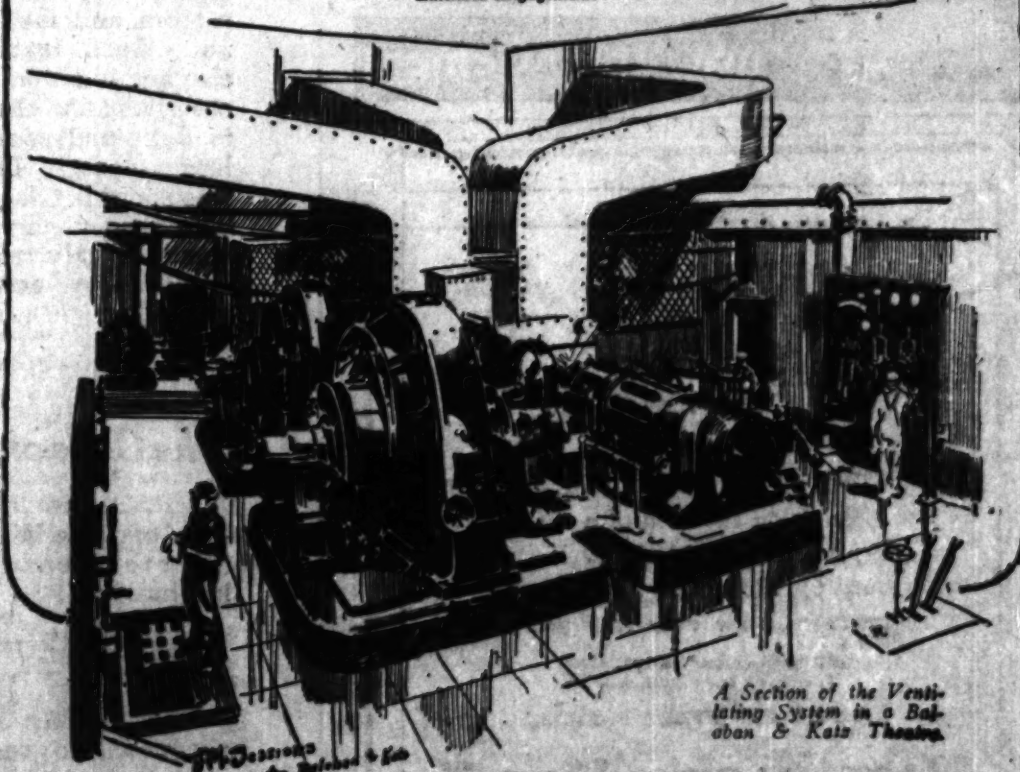

And see what it has led to. Our four beautiful theatres of today are equipped with ventilating and refrigeration apparatus that represents an investment of over $500,000. And there are as many men working downstairs making comfort for you as there are upstairs making entertainment.

From the ashes of the past come the wonders of today.

BANKERS UNITE TO FIGHT FIAT MONEY CRUSADE

Ford and Edison Targets of Publicity Campaign.

BY O. A. MATHER.

A country wide campaign of education designed to warn the American people against the "printing press" money theories recently propounded by several prominent men, with consequent wide publicity, is to be undertaken by the American Bankers' association.

While announcement of the campaign mentions no names, there is no secret about it being inspired chiefly by the recent proposals of Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison for an expansion of the currency.

The bankers' movement will be directed by Paul M. Warburg, Charles A. Hirsch, Evans Woolen, Rudolf Hecht, and Walter Newman, all well known financiers and economists. They have been appointed a special committee by the American Bankers' association, chairman of the economic policy commission of the bankers' association, acting under instructions of the president.

Oppose an Amendment.

"It will be the purpose of this committee to give special consideration to matters affecting the federal reserve system, especially to the various unsound proposals for amendment to the act," Mr. Traylor's announcement states.

"The committee will also give particular attention to the very subtle and dangerous schemes proposed by certain influential but ill advised citizens for the expansion of the circulating medium of the country, such as are involved in the suggestions that the soldiers' bonus be financed by government obligations which will circulate as currency in the ordinary channels of trade, and other proposals for the issuance of purely fiat money."

"It is in order to enlighten the American public by having a body of men in whose financial experience and knowledge it will have confidence that responsible officers of the American Bankers' association have taken the step indicated."

Clay European Crashes.

"Never before in the history of the world has there ever been so striking an example of inevitable and fatal results of printing press money as is to be found in the central European countries at the present moment."

"For the safety of American industry and commerce it cannot be too often repeated that the collapse financially of the central empire was absolutely inevitable from the day they began financing their entire operations through the issuance of their printed promises to pay. It cannot be too forcefully emphasized that rich and powerful as this country is, disaster would certainly follow in the wake of any wild period of inflation, such as would be created were some of the so-called currency proposals actually put into practice."

WHITMAN HEADS CIVIL SERVICE REFORM GROUP

Russell Whitman was elected president of the Civil Service Reform association of Chicago at the adjourned annual meeting held yesterday at the City club rooms.

James M. Ellish of Bloomington was elected president of the Illinois Civil Service Reform association, the meetings being a joint gathering.

William B. Hale, Max Loeb, and M. O. Griffin were elected vice presidents of the Chicago association and Henry F. Tenney secretary.

Among the achievements of the last year as recited by the annual report was a ruling of the Appellate court holding that the employees of the forest preserve district are properly civil servants. The association instituted proceedings over a year ago seeking this end.

It was announced that the employees of the district affected would shortly be classified.

A complaint was received to the effect that a large number of license inspectors in the city were employed on sixty day appointment permits. It was urged that these positions should be classified.

LINK CHICAGO AND ILLINOIS RIVERS IN ROTARY PLEA

Immediate construction of the connecting link between Chicago and the Illinois river as necessary to the commercial and agricultural prosperity of Illinois was urged yesterday in a resolution adopted by the Chicago Rotary club and sent to Gov. Small.

Illinois agriculture, manufacturing, and commerce are suffering from excessive freight rates and insufficient transportation," says the resolution. "The loss involved through these disadvantages amounts to many millions of dollars annually. Gov. Small has asserted that it is his intention to complete the channel between Utica and Joliet which will give relief from the disadvantages under which we now rest. We urge immediate action."

Mrs. Ward Takes Purse "Beauty Parlor" to Court

New York, July 11.—(Special.)—Mrs. Walter S. Ward, in the court room in White Plains when her husband was released on $50,000 bail today, despite his being charged with murder, carried a handbag in which she had a small electric flashlight over a mirror. By merely opening the bag and pressing a button she could see in the mirror without adjusting it to other light. A small storage battery supplied the current. It was greatly admired by other women present when she used it while waiting for her husband to greet her after his bail had been arranged.

REV. WILLIAMSON LETS COUNCIL IN ON $10,000 JOB

To members of the council police committee who have been at the information for six weeks, Rev. Williamson, whose salary as a law enforcer is $10,000 more a year than that received by Chief of Police Fitzmorris, yesterday gave the "punch" of his four month law enforcement campaign.

Said results, pointed to with pride by Rev. Williamson, are as follows: Received and "took care of" 465 complaints, ranging from disorderly conduct among women to murder and including violations of the eighteenth amendment, gambling, domestic troubles, and obscene shows. It developed that the method of "taking care" of the complaints consisted in referring them to city departments or other governmental agencies and turning the replies over to the complainants.

Plenty of Speeches.

He made fifty-seven public addresses, "to church people of course," in an effort to "solidify the public conscience."

"I am functioning right along," the minister told the aldermen who are conducting the inquiry. "Crime has been fifty years in getting rooted in Chicago. You must have patience." To back up his assertion that he is "functioning right along," the enforcer gave in detail his activities of last Monday. These included getting down to work at 3:45 a. m., a complaint from a woman who asked that her husband be kindly treated in an insane asylum, a conference with an alderman, an interview with newspaper reporters, a complaint concerning south side vice conditions, a request that five lawyers be disbanded, a complaint from a woman that her husband had been unfairly rejected as a candidate for patrolman, a complaint against a Municipal judge, a conference with a civil service commissioner, another with Chief Fitzmorris, and so home at 5 o'clock.

The meeting did not pass without more heated clashes between the enforcer and Ald. Arthur F. Albert, whom, with Ald. Sheldon W. Gowen, Rev. Williamson refused to recognize.

Biblical and Slangy.

"Ye who claim to be clean and honest," shouted Ald. Albert, adopting biblical phraseology so that the point would not escape the enforcer under whose nose the alderman shook his finger, "watch your step, for if you are not clean I'm going to get you."

Ald. Albert has had considerable success in gathering evidence against grafting policemen in the Hudson avenue police district.

"I am clean. I came here clean to enforce the law and intend to leave clean," the enforcer replied.

Chairman Steffen, at the direction of the committee appointed a subcommittee, consisting of Ald. Eaton, Franz, A. O. Anderson, McDonough and Wilson to investigate the enforcer's office.

Chicago Tribune Foreign Service.] PARIS, July 11.—The French and British governments have agreed to constitute in Constantinople immediately a single mission, composed of American, British, French, and Italian representatives, to inquire into the alleged atrocities of both the Turks and Greeks in Asia Minor, Quai d'Orsay announced today.

MIDWEST GRAIN MEN MAKE WAR ON CAPPER BILL

Washington, D. C., July 11.—(Special.)—Strong opposition to the new Capper-Tincher grain future bill was expressed today by representatives of the Chicago Board of Trade and other middle western exchanges before the senate agriculture committee.

The bill, revised to meet the objections of the Supreme court which declared the original Capper-Tincher act unconstitutional, was recently passed by the house and is now awaiting senate action. The committee expects to complete the hearings tomorrow and will undoubtedly make a prompt and favorable report on the measure to the senate.

Among those heard today were L. F. Gates, former president of the Chicago Board of Trade; Hiram Bager, another ex-president; and J. C. Murray of Chicago, representing the Quaker Oats company. In some respects, they declared, the new bill was even more objectionable than the old one. They presented a series of amendments which they thought would correct some of the evils.

"The bill is open to all the objections of the bill which the Supreme court found unconstitutional," said Mr. Gates. "It contains errors just as flagrant and some even more serious."

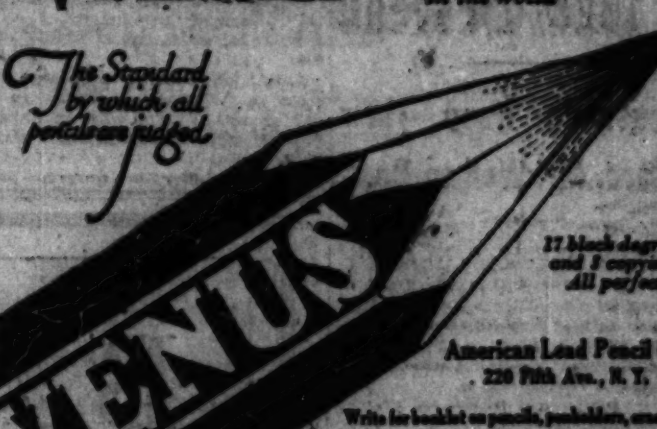

He declared that the grain market was being adversely affected by the constant agitation for legislation to control the exchanges.

But there are thousands of men who go by facts, not prejudice. They are saving falling hair and re-growing hair on bald heads, by using the proven—proven—hair grower—

DEMPSEY SIGNS TO FIGHT WILLS; NO DATE, NO SITE

BY HARRY NEWMAN.

New York, July 11.—(Special).—Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills at last have agreed to fight. The preliminary step has been attended to and now all that remains is for some promoter to blow in with the necessary bid and battleground and we will have a real heavyweight championship battle.

Faddy Mullins, acting for the big colored boxer, tossed his John Hancock on the punch.

Jack Kearns' office this afternoon, embodied in the articles which the two fighters have attested to, the contest must be held within a period of sixty days from acceptance by the parties of the successful bid.

Another provision declares that the bids for holding the contest must be submitted to all the parties and must be satisfactory to all of them.

Now Up to a Promoter.

So there you are. Those little affairs have been attended to, and as said before, all we have to do now is to have Tex Rickard or some other individual climb aboard with the best offer and then for the big show.

It is not quite clear just how soon the battle can be expected. The fact that no date has been set might mean a long delay in the matter. However, included in the articles is another clause which says that if the fight is to be held in New York it must be under the rules of the New York state athletic commission. Of course it could not be otherwise held here, but the rules of the New York commission insist that the battle must take place sixty days after the signing of the agreement.

Another clause in the articles permits either fighter to engage in any number of bouts he might choose pending the signing of articles and the naming of the date for the championship contest.

Rickard to Have Voice.

While Tex Rickard has repeatedly said that he was not prepared as yet to make any bid for the bout, it is generally known that the big promoter will have a whole lot to say when it comes to the final details. If Rickard can get the say so he will be first to tip with an offer, and the fact that he already has the site in New Jersey might serve to make him the choice of all the principals concerned.

Another thing that assures the big fight is that Gov. Miller has gone on record as being in favor of deciding the heavyweight championship right here in New York state. That being the case, it is not unlikely that the stadium will be built either in Manhattan or the Bronx for holding the contest on this side of the Hudson river.

Kearns Wants Some Practice.

Kearns announced that he was anxious to have Dempsey get into action immediately.

"We want to get going now," Jack said. "Of course, you cannot expect us to promote the matches. Wills or anybody, it doesn't make any difference. While waiting for the promoters to get busy on that score, I would like to get a shot at Harry Gray or Jess Willard."

BURMAN-DUNDEE ROW ON WEIGHING IN TIME SETTLED

BY WALTER BUCKENBELL.

If Joe Burman and Mike Dundee fight as earnestly as their managers protect their interests one of the great events of the season should result on Friday night when the little fellows exchange wallop for ten rounds or less at Aurora.

When Dick Curley, manager of Dundee, pocket $1,000 with the sporting editor of THE TRIBUNE to insure his fighter making 125 pounds, a heated argument took place between Curley and Tommy Walsh, who looks after the interests of Burman. Curley insisted that the Chicago called for Dundee to make weight at 125 pounds Friday afternoon in Chicago. Walsh was just as insistent the weighing in process should take place in Aurora at the same hour.

In other words Curley tried to "give" an hour before Chicago daylight savings time and Aurora standard. Promoter Jim Mullin finally jumped into the controversy and stated the man will make weight at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon in Aurora.

After watching both fighters in training it is beginning to look as if Burman will direct his attack for Dundee's midsection, while Mike will rely upon good right-hand to connect with the button on Burman's jaw.

Burman and Dundee will finish strenuous training today. Light work will be indulged in tomorrow and the fighters and their trainers will leave for the battleground on Friday morning.

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 11.—Proposed purchase by the Pirates of outfielder Roy Elsh of the Sioux City Western league club has been halted by Baseball Commissioner Landis. Urbana, Ill., July 11.—(Special).—Walter Eckersall, sport writer for THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, will referee the championship middleweight wrestling match between Johnny Meyers of Chicago and Paul Frahn, wrestling coach at the University of Illinois here today. Over 15,000 fans are expected to witness the match.

GASOLINE ALLEY—GETTING SOLID WITH WALT

TITLE IS EXPENSIVE, JOE FINDS; COSTS HIM COOL $10,000 TO WIN IT

NEW YORK, July 11.—(Special).—The most interesting aftermath of the bout between Joe Lynch and Johnny Buff, when the former retained the bantamweight championship, is the fact that while Lynch won the crown, he lost $9,384.32. The article of agreement demanded that if Lynch won the bout, he was to receive 55 per cent of the net receipts and pay Buff the sum of $10,000. In the event of Buff's winning Johnny was to receive 55 per cent of the net receipts and pay Lynch the sum of $10,000.

There were 15,000 in the New York Velodrome on Monday night, of whom 14,000 paid. The total gate receipts were $4,845.40. Of this amount the government claimed 10 per cent, or $484.54. The state claimed an additional $2,194.70, making the net receipts $4,166.16.

Tex Rickard today was at a loss to explain why the bout did not draw better. In advance, it had been figured that the gate would be $10,000 or more. Eddie Rickard said: "Many may have remained away fearing they would be unable to purchase seats."

Eddie Meade, Lynch's manager, today announced that he intends to book the champion for five weeks at Madison Square Garden and then Joe will be ready to defend his title against all comers.

The women came out to see Mrs. J. E. Grandma, Daoust, 48 years old, of Carlinville, Ill., in the 235 pace of Earlville, who was the favorite.

NEW RIVAL FOR BAMBINO

Philadelphia Athletics slugger banged his twentieth and twenty-first homers yesterday in a double header which the Macks won from the Tigers. In doing so Walker stepped over Ken Williams into first place among the American league circuit hitters. He is only one homer behind Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals, who is leading both leagues.

Over the fence they go

TILLIE WALKER of the Philadelphia Athletics smashed two homers yesterday and took the circuit crown away from Ken Williams of the Browns, who has held it all season. Rogers Hornsby of the Cardinals had already supplanted Williams as chief home-run swatter of the majors by driving out his twenty-second homer yesterday. In spite of Hornsby's efforts, however, the older leaguer still lingers twenty-five homers behind American brethren. The latter have counted 267 since the season opened, while the Nationals have amassed only 242. Players who have cracked three or more are:

GRIFFS' PINCHER HITS AND HOSE LOSE, 3-2

CHICAGO.

SOX-SENATORS SCORES

BY FRANK SCHREIBER.

With Jess Barnes going his prattiest on the slab, the Giants had little trouble in breaking the Cubs' winning streak of eight games, coming out of nine innings of flashy play on the long end of a 4 to 0 score. The league's best pitcher, only once did Barnes get two hits in an inning, and only two of the Bears reached second base. Along with his excellent pitching Barnes was helped out by three double plays and a sacrifice fly.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Washington, D. C., July 11.—(Special).—A pinch hitter knocked the props from under rookie Ted Blankenship today and the White Sox did a double in the first of the set with the Senators. The pinch hitter, a Mr. Smith, singled two of his mates home in the seventh and that was sufficient damage to decide the pastime by 3 to 2.

Until that time the 19 year old Texan hurled a whole of a game, only four hits being made off his assortment of swift hooks and slow ones. Two of these blows were bunched in the third for a run, but the Sox got that back in the fourth and then went ahead in their seventh only to be noosed out just when it looked as if Blankenship would annex himself to a well earned victory.

SOX Weak in Offense.

On offense the Sox were just as they have been in several of their recent games. They couldn't do much to George Morige, the veteran south paw, for seven innings, and against the left hander, Francis, who performed in the eighth and ninth, they accomplished next to nothing. Evidently Gleason's men are in a mild batting slump.

Judge made the first of seven hits off Blankenship when he opened the second with a single to right. Brower followed with a double in the same direction and Judge scored. Brower then was caught at third on Shank's attempted sacrifice and Harris was thrown out by the pitcher. Blankenship extricated himself from that hole by fanning Morige.

Bunch Hits for a Run.

For the first three innings the Sox were as feeble as could be before Morige and two were down in the fourth before any semblance of energy appeared. At that stage Hooper singled to left and Mostell immediately chased him across the plate with a triple to right center. Mostell died on the far corner when Falk lofted to Rio.

Mostell also had a hand in the seventh inning run. He opened with a single that Beck knocked down on the grass. Falk bunted and Morige endeavored to catch Mostell at second, but the fleet footed outfielder bested the pitcher. Shelly then moved both men along with a sacrifice and Schalk was purposely passed. Blankenship grounded out to Judge, but Mostell got home on the play after which Johnson flied out.

The unlucky home seventh opened with a single by Brower. He was forced by Shank. Harris walked and Migs batted for John, but rolled out to Shelly. Then came Smith, batting for Morige, and he lined a single to center, Shank and Harris counting the deciding runs.

A Bruise Which Sticks Makes This Film Worth While

By Max Thine.
The great thing about this picture is the bruise on the face of the hero. He gets in a fight and acquires a bruise. The bruise is permitted to remain for at least three scenes. Usually, no matter how horrible a battle may have been—prize change, there is your hero a moment after as fair and unmarked as when he lay a babe in his mother's arms. Why, even Reginald Denny in "The Leather Pushers" can come through a prize fight, a baby lamb! THEREFORE, I say, the bruise makes "The Man Unconquerable" worth while.

Without the bruise it registers as a fairly exciting, fairly well done adventure picture with Mr. Jack Holt, so far as the megaphone man allows him, being a perfectly natural man under perfectly unnatural circumstances. He has (in the picture) fallen heir to some pearl fisheries in a place, the name of which I don't even try to remember. Also, he has a little feud on his hands. Everything and everybody is against him, including the heroine, for a long time, during which he proves himself a MAN. God bless him! Willing and entirely able to cope with any situation. The photography is good. The sets are studio settings, but creditable ones. The supporting cast has been well chosen.

Some day I want to see Mr. Holt star in a great production. Will he make the grade? I THINK he WILL!

JEAN: DO YOU GET ENOUGH sleep? If you don't that will bring on the dark circles. Or not enough exercise, perhaps. Sounds to me as if your eyes might be bothering you. Better have them looked into just to be sure anyway. If you send me a. s. e. I will forward you a pamphlet on care of the eyes which contains bits of information which may help decide your trouble for you.

A. S. SWIMMING WILL DEVELOP the upper part of the body more quickly than any other outdoor exercise. The strokes are developing and then the necessary lung-filling with fresh, clean air and emptying in the water works quickly for improvement. I have a few deep breathing exercises I would urge you to send a. s. e. for, too, to do on land and before retiring. Massaging is a slow process at best of developing shoulders, bust, and neck, and often not satisfactory.

Stops Pain Instantly

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in two forms—a colorless, clear liquid (one drop does it) and in extra thin plasters. Use whichever form you prefer, plasters or the liquid—the action is the same. Safe, gentle. Made in a world-famed laboratory. Sold by all druggists.

Raisins with Sweet Potatoes.

In that section of the country where fried chicken is an almost daily luxury one of the favorite accompaniments for it is sweet potato candied, roasted, marshmallowed. These are becoming generally popular. Do have a real dinner salad with the combination. I warn you, not a fruit mixture! The plain green salad gives relief while a fruit salad would make the whole meal a mope or less cloying one. My latest desire is to fight cloying instead of truly satisfying meals.

This recipe for roasted sweet potato is one I tried out a year ago and thought it closely related to the Italian "Suppa Ingles," the American bread pudding, and so forth: Boil, peel, mash and season sweet potatoes as you would white. Put them into a buttered baking dish and cover with marshmallows "toppings," mixed with a few chopped raisins. Put in hot oven and cook until it puffs and browns slightly. Serve from baking dish.

In a book of southern recipes which I have recently picked up, as I rummaged through the second hand book stores of several cities, is a recipe called "Mammy's Marshmallow Taters." Eliminating the dialect we have this: Boil sweet potatoes until

Two small lads were playing on the porch of their grandfather's summer home. There was a long stretch of lawn down to the shore of the lake. Out on the lake many summer visitors were enjoying themselves in all kinds of watercraft.

Doris Blake Says!

TODAY IS A LUCKY WEDDING DAY.

Today's astrological forecast indicates a smooth, running of affairs in both domestic and business circles. An auspicious day for weddings, promising material prosperity and enduring love. Those whose birthday today is have the augury of an active but not particularly prosperous year. Slight losses may be expected. Children born today should have the principles of carefulness and neatness in all things instilled into them from early youth in order to insure a successful career. Your natal day it is as quiet and deep thinking, with perhaps a too critical nature in regard to yourself. You have a deep love of home and try to make it beautiful and harmonious. You can be relied upon. You have a good head for business. You are affectionate, patient, and tolerant. You have a well informed mind, are shrewd and close mouthed. Your aims are high and you deserve all that you obtain.

He's Worth Keeping.

"Dear Miss Blake: I'm in love with a fellow two years my senior. He takes me to a dance every Saturday night, but never makes any attempt to see me during the week. Would you advise me to keep him on my list?"
I think so, Tillie. That is, if you enjoy going to the dance with him. Why not? Just because he does not take you out often? Being entertained once a week is quite a bit these days of expensive entertainment.

older boy, who was about 5, down off the porch sprawling on the steps and then clear out on the grass. Of course, it made a big noise, and the people on the water all looked up and laughed. Tom, out on the grass, burst into such loud screams that his grandfather came out and asked, "What are you bawling about? You're not hurt." To which he replied, "No, I know I'm not hurt, but my feelin's are." A. M. H.

Six year old Dickie was being reprimanded for running away from home. He had been gone for two hours and caused much anxiety.
"Well," he replied, "I don't see why you need to know where I am if I know myself!"

How Long Is Ten Years?

Looking backward, ten years doesn't seem like a very long time. It has probably gone so fast that you wonder just where the years have gone. Study the table below and consider what you could have accomplished—the investments you would now have—if, during that time, you had invested regularly under the Powell-Garard System Investing Plan.

	Monthly Investment	Approximate Accumulation
$ 10	$ 1,600
20	3,200
50	8,200
100	16,400
200	32,800
500	82,000
1,000	164,000

Then consider that the next ten years be any longer—in fact, will probably seem so long. For increased duties and responsibilities make the years go faster. You accomplish more—financially—in the next ten years than you have in the past
